SMALL UPHOLDS CONSTRUCTION SUBSIDY PLAN

CPA Head Backs Wyatt Proposal; Republican Objections Heard

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt's request for authority to spend up to $600,000,000 in building material bonuses was described before a senate committee today as a "reasonable" one.

Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small, in defending the request, said "we will use only as much of the money as we need," and then only as "a last resort."

The subsidy plan was voted out of the administration's vast home-building program by the house. The senate banking committee now is being asked to restore it.

"Premium Payments"

Small testified the money might be used in many ways to stimulate the production of materials that go into house building. He cited "premium payments" to a plant for overtime operations as one.

"Such payments might be made to help an industry build new plants which would not appear to be economically feasible in the normal course of business," he added.

"They might be used to induce small operators to increase their production by adding new or more modern equipment which they could not afford to buy themselves."

As the administration thus applied fresh pressure for its homes-for-veterans program it ran into a Republican contention that part of it is a "pork barrel" scheme.

Even before Small appeared to renew pleas for a $600,000,000 subsidy fund to boost production of scarce materials, Senator Caphart (R. Ind.) voiced his "pork barrel" charge.

He referred, he told reporters, to Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt's plans for the government to guarantee markets for prefabricated dwellings and construction materials.

"I fight these prefabricated houses and subsidy of new materials until hell freezes over," Caphart said. "They would benefit only a few concerns at government expense."

Under the Wyatt program, the government would undertake to

Northern Lights Acting Up Again

NEW YORK, March 28.—Aurora Borealis, which has been troubling communications facilities periodically for three weeks, struck with renewed force early today, causing one of the most severe interruptions since it began acting up.

Both radio communications and news circuits which operate over land were affected by the new outbreak which started at 5 a. m. (EST) today.

The Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., said its radio signals between the United States and Europe were on an "up and down" basis which prevented normal service. Some service was maintained, however.

The Radio Corporation of America said the interruptions were severe and spotty.

Reuther Elected UAW Head

Walter Reuther, past vice president of the United Auto Workers (CIO) smiles and waves to delegates in UAW convention hall at Atlantic City, N. J., after announcement that he defeated R. J. Thomas for the presidency of the union.

Reuther, New UAW Leader, Launches Objectives Drive

(By Associated Press)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 28.—Walter Reuther, newly-elected president of the CIO United Auto Workers, launched his big union toward new spheres of influence today.

Reuther defeated R. J. Thomas, president for seven years, for the leadership yesterday by the slim margin of 125 votes in a turbulent four-hour roll-call at the union convention marked by fist-fighting and confusion.

The official count was 4,445 to 4,320.

The delegates turned today to filling two vacancies in the vice-presidential posts. But they were equally interested in where the 38-year-old strategist of the General Motors strike might be planning to lead the UAW-CIO next.

Reuther told a news conference after his election that he would work toward:

- 1—Organizing farm equipment workers in a big way.
- 2—Industry-wide collective bargaining in the automotive industry based on equal pay for equal work.
- 3—A bigger, stronger and more unified union, developing responsibility in all plants so that workers would not strike unless authorized by the international union.
- 4—A guaranteed annual wage for the workers.
- 5—Organizing the white-collar workers, engineers and technicians of the auto industry.

He told the convention in a speech after his victory that he wanted to "take my place by the side of Philip Murray and help him carry part of the burden he has to carry as president of the CIO."

He put industry on notice with these words:

"Let the capitalists and the anti-labor forces realize that we disagree in the convention but when we leave here, we leave as a united organization to fight the common fight."

Thomas has been urged by friends to seek one of the vice-presidential posts, but there were reports he might become a CIO delegate to the world federation of trade unions in Paris.

Both vice-presidencies are vacant, one having been held by Reuther and the other by Richard T. Frankenstein, who is not seeking re-election.

Deupree said his plans also called for stock-piling against potential shortages of raw materials such as tin and rubber which were critically

8TH OF OHIO FAMILIES IN NEED OF HOME

Newspaper Classified Columns Filled With Appeals For Help

There is no place like home—if you can find one.

But some 200,000 Ohio families, about one in every eight, are convinced that there is no place like home available.

The Veterans Housing administration at Cleveland popped up with the 200,000 figure today, admitted its tabulations were not complete and that the condition was "serious."

Based on the national average of "four in a family," the administration's guess was that almost a million of the Buckeye state's 6,907,612 residents were looking for a place to hang their hats.

The "Wanted To Rent" columns of the state's newspapers, including The Salem News, tell the tale much more graphically than the cold figures.

At Toledo a few weeks ago someone offered a 1946 automobile in exchange for information leading to rental of a six-room house.

Special Inducements

In other sections, where "House For Rent" advertisements have been missing for months, but "Wanted To Rent" lists run as long as your arm, special inducements of all kinds are offered in the mad scramble for a place to live.

At Columbus, Mansfield, Marion, Lorain, Sandusky and other spots, ads offering $50 to $100 rewards for third-party information leading to rentals have been prolific. At Ironton one resident offered to pay a year's rent in advance.

A young couple at Sandusky offered a box of nylons to anyone pointing out a three-room furnished apartment, and at Cincinnati a war veteran, due to be wed in June, is willing to start paying rent now on a small apartment to assure having it in time to carry the bride across the threshold.

Still Others

Three little girls, all under four, offered this plea at Columbus: "Somewhere there must be a landlord who knows it isn't a crime for nice folks to have children, and who doesn't object to our renting his house. Dad will pay our rent promptly and make most minor repairs. We need a yard to play in."

Three adults, one a veteran, advertised at Alliance: "Yes, we like your town, but we'd like it much better if we had a place to live. We offer reward for information leading to rental of unfurnished apartment."

At Cleveland, following a column-long list of pleas for homes and apartments, one original homeseeker confined his advertisement to "Me, too" and his telephone number.

And at Steubenville, proving the situation there is drastic, too, this one appeared:

"Young lady wants to share apartment with someone in north end of town."

Adopt Farm Labor Rates For County

Approximately 40 Columbiana county farmers met last night in the Lisbon courthouse to approve prevailing wages for county farm labor for the coming season.

The wages established are not "too-the-line" regulations, Floyd Lower, county extension agent, explained.

A single man, living on the farm on which he works, will draw about $85 a month, plus room and board. If room and board are not furnished, the rate varies between $90 and $125, the farmers determined last night.

A married man should receive $75 in wages, tenant house for his family along with garden and farm produce. The hourly rate figure at about 50 cents per hour, Lower said.

Specifically, the complaint charged the company sold used sewing machines at violative price ceiling regulations and had forced purchasers of sewing machines to buy other commodities, contrary to restrictions against tie-in sales. The petition said violations complained of had occurred throughout the United States.

Bennett said the case originated from the complaint of a Kansas City housewife several months ago that a Singer outlet store here would not sell her a sewing machine unless she also bought a sewing cabinet.

Failure To Renew Draft Would Keep Many Men In

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Major Gen. Willard S. Paul told congress today that unless the draft law were extended the Army would be forced to retain indefinitely some of the men who already had been inducted.

Paul, Army personnel chief, appeared before the senate military affairs committee to back up the administration's request for a year's extension of the Selective Service act.

Earlier, the committee heard from Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey that the act must be extended if the Army were to get the 600,000 men he said it needed in the next 12 months.

Paul said the Army wanted to limit to 18 months the service of men already inducted but the only way it could be done was through a continuation of the draft.

Both Hershey and Paul contended that voluntary recruiting would not fill the Army's needs.

Major General Hershey estimated that the Army required about 50,000 men monthly but could obtain only one-fifth of that number through enlistments if the Selective Service law were permitted to lapse on May 15.

He was the first witness as the senate military affairs committee began two weeks of public hearings.

As Hershey began reading a prepared statement calling attention to mobilization of 14,000,000 men during the war and peacetime "commitments at home and abroad," Chairman Elbert Thomas (D. Utah) interrupted.

"Let's forget the commitments abroad and get right down to the question involved," Thomas said curtly.

Thomas, who has opposed extension of the draft, said he believed voluntary enlistments would provide all the men the armed forces needed under present plans.

"We've broken all records for voluntary enlistments," Thomas said. "Hershey asserted the reason was that thousands of young men volunteered only because they thus avoided being drafted."

In addition to the 50,000 needed monthly by the Army, General Hershey said the Navy must recruit 27,000 men each month until Sept. 1 if it is to reach the proposed minimum peacetime strength of 500,000.

Reviewing his inspection trip to Hiroshima, Friedell said the bomb hit the city "like a giant fly swatter," injuring between 100,000 and 150,000 of Hiroshima's 400,000 population.

The colonel, who entered the city Oct. 1, said radiation of the bomb caused between five and seven per cent of the estimated 100,000 fatalities.

Collapse of buildings and fires caused most of the casualties, he added.

There was little radiation in the ground because the bomb had been exploded high enough to dissipate the radioactivity into the air, he said.

Crow Jumps To Safety, Pilot Crash-Lands Plane

4 Patriotic Songs Rated As Essential

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, March 28.—These four patriotic songs are "essential," says a special committee of the music educators national conference:

"Star Spangled Banner," "America," "America The Beautiful," "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

But objectionable, on the ground it is "too sectional," is "Marching Through Georgia."

The committee's function was to find means of combating the anticipated slump in patriotic fervor following the end of a war, and in doing so it made up a list.

Five Are Optional

Besides the essential songs, it named the following as optional:

"God Bless America," "Hail Columbia," "Taps," "Tenting Tonight," and "Grand Old Flag."

These were declared "desirable"—"Air Corps Song," "Field Artillery Song," "Dixie," "Marines Hymn," "Over There," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and "Yankee Doodle."

The committee was headed by Peter W. Dykema, professor emeritus of music education at Columbia university, who said:

"The four essential songs serve the American purpose of inspiring devotion to country and also serve the interest of the United Nations."

Rival Solons Agree — On Horseshoe Court

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Congressmen today hailed President Truman's decision to build a horseshoe court on the south grounds of the White House.

Party lines were ignored. Republicans joined Democrats in calling the plan "a move in the right direction."

The whole thing came up after Mr. Truman told Rep. George Bender (R. Ohio) he hankered for a little exercise and so planned a horseshoe court.

Rep. Clarence Brown (R. Ohio), who measures 6 feet, 2 inches tall and not a great deal less around, declared:

"It's a move in the right direction. I might even play myself. Of course, the President will have to agree to pick up the shoes for me. With my middle, I'll need a caddy."

Say Dynamite Death Of Youth Accidental

STEUBENVILLE, March 28.—The dynamite death of Joseph Montgomery, 17-year-old high school student with an avid interest in chemistry, was viewed by police today as possibly accidental.

The youth's dismembered body was found last night in a vacant lot after he had been reported missing since Tuesday.

Police Chief Ross Cunningham reported Montgomery on Tuesday had entered a florist shop and told a high school acquaintance employed there that he had strapped to his body two sticks of dynamite which were wired to a battery. By pressing a button, he would explode the dynamite, the youth was quoted further.

Florist shop employees made no comment, believing the boy to be joking, the police chief said, expressing the belief the youth may have pressed the button unintentionally.

Inquiry among other high school students indicated that the youth previously had the dynamite at school, but friends apparently were not alarmed by this because of Montgomery's interest in chemistry, Cunningham added.

SOVIETS WALK OUT ON IRAN DISCUSSION

Iranian Delegate Tells His Story; Terms Situation 'Explosive'

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 28.—The United Nations Security Council was called into executive session today to discuss grave problems of procedure raised when Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko walked out on the council late yesterday after it refused to postpone consideration of the Iranian issue.

A Soviet spokesman indicated Gromyko would attend the session—scheduled for 4 p. m. (EST)—with the understanding that the council would not go into the merits of the Iranian dispute.

The spokesman's statement reinforced the general understanding that the Soviet delegate had not divorced himself from the council but merely was standing pat on his determination not to participate in any discussion of the Iranian case prior to April 10—a deadline he apparently fixed on instructions from Moscow.

Cites Soviet Proposal

The Iranian case was presented late yesterday by Ambassador Hussein Ala who called the situation in Iran "explosive" and a threat to world peace—after Gromyko had dramatically absented himself and hastened with his staff to the Soviet consulate general for consultation.

Hussein Ala said Soviet officials proposed that:

- (1) Soviet troops remain in some parts of Iran indefinitely.
- (2) The Iranian government should recognize internal autonomy for Azerbaijan, with the provincial premier becoming governor general, with the provincial ministries of foreign affairs and war abolished, with 30 per cent of the provincial revenue paid to the Iranian central government and all correspondence with the central government conducted in the Persian language.
- (3) The Soviet government should abandon demands for an oil concession and an Iranian-Russian joint stock company should be set up with 51 per cent of the shares held by the Soviet union and 49 per cent by Iran.

Hussein Ala said Premier Qavam rejected these demands and the Soviet officials withdrew them.

Further efforts the Iranian said, had not clarified the situation.

PLANE CRASH FATAL TO SEVEN SOLDIERS

MANILA, March 28.—Seven American soldiers were killed and two injured in the crash of a C-47 transport plane in the southern Luzon province of Iloilo, in which 11 Filipinos also perished, the U. S. army announced today.

First Lt. Robert Germany escaped injury and made his way down five miles of jungle-covered mountain to Lucban village, Tayabas province, to enlist aid of Philippine military police and 120 villagers.

The army's announcement, corrected an earlier report that all but one of those aboard were Philippine army officers and men.

The army said the Americans killed were T/5 David Oberker, Corp. Harold Stump, Lt. Albert Lippens, Corp. D. Paulinau, and Capt. Louis Adler. Lt. Morgan and O. Mathews, injured were Corp. Edwin Dabney, Jr., and Pfc. Herbert M. Pruitt. (Home towns unavailable).

Sues In Traffic Death

LISBON, March 28.—A $10,000 damage action has been filed in common pleas court against Leopold Beller of Darlington, Pa., by Robert McMillen, R. D. 5, Lisbon, who asks the sum for the death of his daughter, Bertha Mae, which occurred in the collision of a car and truck on the Signal-Rogers road March 27, 1944.

The petition states the girl was riding in a car driven in an easterly direction by Paul L. Crowl, when the car collided with a parked cattle truck owned by the defendant. There were no lights on the truck or warning signs, it is charged.

Veterans Will Have To Be Shown

The Truman administration's veterans' housing program surged ahead in a spectacular manner Tuesday, sparked by a fresh edict forbidding virtually all other construction. Veterans may get no more houses than before, but they always can take shelter under the red tape.

Only one thing could justify this gross interference with the construction industry and its customers—more houses for veterans than would have been obtainable in any other way. Veterans will have to be shown. So will everybody else.

Houses cannot be built by edict. All the masterminds in Washington, provided they could find the material, couldn't build a chicken house. Houses must be built by carpenters, masons, plumbers, tinners, roofers, plasterers, electricians and painters. They must be built by capital, by architects and by people with the wherewithal to pay for them.

The building industry has been handicapped by material shortages. Some of the shortages are aggravated by government fumbling. No matter how many orders and clarifying statements are handed down by Washington, there can be no more new houses than there are materials to put into them. The industry's problems aren't going to be solved by the presence of a brand new bureaucratic monkey wrench in the tool chest.

So far, the net effect of government masterminding in the housing shortage has been a shrinkage in reliable estimates of the new units that are going to be built. Further interference, unless relieved by action to ease the materials shortage, will bring a further shrinkage.

Competition For Converts

The web of wishful thinking which conceals, or tries to conceal, the competition between the United States and the Soviet Union for converts to their respective ways of life is being cut wide open by French negotiators seeking American financial assistance.

French Foreign Minister Bidault, backing up Leon Blum on his mission to Washington, has hinted broadly that if the United States does not make the loan France seeks it will be forced to look to Russia. Instead, M. Blum is believed to be using the same argument in direct negotiations with President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes. France is too desperate to conceal the coercion that has become its best hope of getting what it needs.

The same competition is visible in many other quarters. It is implicit in this government's effort to furnish food to Europe lest the desperation of hunger force more Europeans into Russia's orbit of influence. It is the driving force behind the struggle for prestige in Asia and for influence in Latin America.

Competition for ideological support is the fundamental issue in the mind of Winston Churchill when he criticizes Russian policy and in the mind of Prime Minister Stalin when he retorts that Russia has the right to make the most of its war-won prestige as a major power. No amount of circumlocution on the part of diplomats reluctant to admit that competition for converts is the great reality of the moment can conceal the fact that it underlies virtually every plan and act of international relations.

It Is Not All In Fun

The glimpse of union politics which the public is getting during the United Automobile Workers' convention is more reassuring than disturbing. The U.A.W. is obviously not putting on so vivid a demonstration of internal dissension for fun. The struggle between its leaders and the factions into which the delegates are divided is real, it is earnest and it is tremendously significant.

One of the standard indictments used by critics of organized labor is the failure of many unions to practice representative democracy. The indictment cannot be brought against the Auto Workers. Their practice of representative democracy so closely resembles the curious give-and-take of American presidential elections that it is a microcosm of that cherished institution. Or perhaps, since the give-and-take involves delegates rather than the rank-and-file, the resemblance is to party conventions, rather than elections.

Organized labor's friends say that if the public understood unions better there would be less criticism. They contend that much of the criticism is caused by misunderstanding. Certainly one result of the published accounts of the U.A.W. convention is more understanding of what goes on behind the scenes in a strong union. Perhaps in the future there will be less misunderstanding of what goes on in front of the scenes.

UN or UNO?

There can be no doubt that the correct name of the thing most Americans have been calling UNO is UN, standing for United Nations.

The three-letter title, which stands for United Nations Organization, has no justification, being originally a device to make a distinction between the United Nations as they were in the war and the organization of the United Nations for cooperative security after the war. UNO, in other words, is the perpetration of an accidental title that came into use when UN was one thing, but UNO was another. As a matter of fact, the United Nations never were popularly referred to as UN, which is as awkward as that other two letter alphabetic title VA, for Veterans Administration.

The present move to correct the title to UN is picking up a following, but it will be a long time before the O will be dropped by all of us who have seized upon UNO as something that looks good in print and is easy to say, either as U-N-O, or as one word, Uno. The sticklers for correct form may as well admit that UNO is handy, even if it doesn't mean anything.

Unfinished Portrait

The East Glendale (Calif.) War Wives Ass'n wants to shave off Uncle Sam's old-fashioned beard and remold him nearer to their hearts' desire. Specifically, they recommend that he be given Edward Stettinius' white hair, Booth Tarkington's forehead, Connie Mack's nose, General Eisenhower's smile and Bernard Baruch's chin.

With the world in its present state, we would make the supplementary suggestion that Uncle Sam also be given a pair of sharp eyes to see where he's going, and a couple of keen ears to hear what's going on. We aren't particular about the models, just so the eyes are 20-20, and the ears are able to hear a diplomatic pin drop on the other side of the world.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Now Is the Time To Prevent Hay Fever

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE time to prevent hay fever is now. Waiting until August and the open season for sneezes is like locking the barn door after the horse is gone. To be effective, preventive measures must be taken well in advance of the annual onset of the difficulty.

Hay fever is due to allergy or over-sensitivity. That is, persons with this condition react, as a rule, to other pollen from some plant, particularly the ragweed. In hay fever, there are such symptoms as watering of the eyes and a nasal discharge with a great deal of sneezing an discomfort.

Sensitivity Tests
Hay fever victims should have tests carried out to determine to just what substances they may be sensitive. These tests are made by injecting extracts of various kinds of pollen into the skin or by rubbing these extracts into scratches in the skin and noting whether any reaction occurs such as the formation of a red swelling at the point of injection.

To prevent attacks of hay fever, the usual method of treatment is to give injections of the pollen extract in gradually increasing doses. Many physicians favor giving these injections the year round.

Others may start the injections three or four months before the usual hay fever season, which starts about the middle of August and lasts through September.

Prevent Attacks
Attempts to prevent the attacks have also been made by giving the pollen extract by mouth. Dr. Narcisse F. Thibierge of New Orleans believes that the use of this type of treatment is helpful in addition to giving of the pollen extract by injection, particularly if the patient travels a great deal or perhaps is one of those few who object to injections.

Dr. Thibierge thinks that this method of treatment cannot replace the injection method completely, because it is impossible to be certain how rapidly the extract will be absorbed or taken up in the body. He treated 82 patients giving the pollen extract by mouth over a period of one to three years.

Coated Pills
He used pills which were coated so that they would not dissolve in the stomach but only in the intestine. With this method of treatment, he was able to keep about one-sixth of the patients free from attacks of hay fever and to relieve the symptoms in about one-half. Three of the patients stated that the treatment made them worse. Since it has been proved that pollen extract given by mouth is absorbed in the body and acts to make the patient less sensitive to pollen, many hay fever victims may find this new method of prevention helpful.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. S.: Will you please tell me something about conjunctivitis? Can it be cured and is it possible to lose your vision from it?

Answer: Conjunctivitis is caused by many types of infection. The treatment for the condition depends upon the kind of infection which is present. In most instances the condition can be cured. Unless the disorder is quite serious, it would not interfere with the vision.

H. R. Z.: Is it serious when a person finds blood and gravel in the urine?

Answer: Blood and gravel in the urine indicate that there is a tendency to kidney stone formation. Such a condition may be serious, depending upon how many stones are present and where they are located. An X-ray of the urinary tract would be advisable.

V. M. E.: Would the occasional use of alcohol beverages be harmful to someone who has had cystitis?

Answer: Cystitis means inflammation of the bladder. Whether or not alcohol beverages would be harmful to an individual who has had cystitis could only be determined by her physician after he has made an examination to determine her general physical state.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Pensioners' Funds Checkup Requested By State Official

COLUMBUS, March 28 — State Welfare Director Frazier Reams pressed State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today for a checkup of the $20,000,000 worth of bank accounts, insurance policies, and real estate deeds held in trust for old-age pensioners by the state.

In a letter recalling that he first had requested an audit early in 1945, Reams said he felt that Ferguson was "overlooking the great importance of this matter both to the citizens of Ohio and to the recipients of aid for the aged."

Under the aid for the aged act which started old age pensions in July 1934, recipient must deposit bank books, insurance policies, real estate deeds, stocks and bonds, and other property and valuables with the state. After his death, the properties are balanced against the amount he has received in pensions and any remainder is given to his family or other heirs.

1. M. Lamoreaux, pension chief, said the fund now totaled $20,534,673, with assessed value of real estate accounting for $12,583,287. Other items include life insurance policies with a face value of $5,632,229, bank accounts totaling $1,931,225, notes receivable for $146,742, stocks and bonds worth $81,195, and miscellaneous items totaling $8,170.

Reams said an audit probably would have to be made in each of the 88 county offices. No official statement on the probable cost was available, but the best estimates centered around $75,000.

Red Official Says Evacuation Rolling

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, March 28—Prince Mozaffar Firooz, political undersecretary of state and director of propaganda, said today that the Russian evacuation of Kazvin, 80 miles northwest of Tehran, "has begun and should be completed within three or four days."

United States and British diplomatic officials said, however, that despite Russian troop movements northward they were not yet sure that the Red army intended to withdraw completely from the semi-autonomous Iranian province of Azerbaijan.

Firooz denied that any "secret agreement" existed between Iran and the Soviet Union concerning the Russian evacuation.

An Iranian general staff officer said there had been no reports that any Russian troops actually had crossed the Iranian frontier into the Soviet Union.

Some observers here foresaw the possibility that the Russian columns now streaming northward might withdraw only as far as Iranian Azerbaijan, which borders on the USSR. These sources said the Russians might support this action by maintaining that the province is no longer a part of Iran.

Ben Ryder and the Wanderlust

During the war, Ben Ryder talked about the trips he'd take when gasoline rationing was ended. Used to pore over roadmaps—checking mileages and charting routes.

Now Ben's taking quite a lot of ribbing. Soon as rationing was lifted, he decided he liked staying home, putting in the garden, playing chess, sharing a pleasant glass of beer with friends.

"Shucks," admits Ben sheepishly, "as soon as you can go, then it's just as good as having gone!"

You might as well stay home... enjoy your friends and family."

From where I sit, that's a pretty common trait in human nature.

Take that glass of beer, for instance. During Prohibition, Ben was nursing an insatiable thirst. But come repeal, Ben suddenly finds he's happy with a friendly, moderate glass of beer—and nothing more. Yep—just tell folks the sky's the limit, and they'll settle for a piece of friendly earth.

U. S. Ruins Homecoming Of Japanese Diplomats

URAGA, Japan, March 28 — A surprise American search for an estimated $5,000,000 cache of currency and jewels turned the homecoming of some of Japan's top European diplomats into a highly polished game of cops and robbers today.

Assets valued at several thousand dollars—most of which was believed to belong to the Japanese government—were discovered in the first stages of a search of the 338 passengers on the repatriation ship Teikushu Maru.

Maj. J. V. Duff, military government officer of the eighth army said he had received reports that the diplomats were carrying cash, jewelry and securities that might be worth $5,000,000.

"A large portion of this is assets of the Japanese government which the government had ordered the diplomats to turn in for reparations," Duff said.

Ohio Restricts Building Operations To Dwellings

COLUMBUS, March 28.—The federal government today had Ohio's pledge of cooperation in its campaign to restrict most building operations to residential properties.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche said yesterday the state would cooperate "within the limits of its power" with the new federal building regulations.

Lausche said the state department of industrial regulations issued permits for construction or repair of commercial building or apartments of five or more units and that such building could not be constructed if permits were withheld.

The governor emphasized that construction already approved by the department would not be affected by the federal ban.

Reveals Germany's Extensive Verbal Campaign In U. S.

By DANIEL DELUCE
NUERNBERG, Germany, March 28.—Nazi Germany financed a $1,000,000 propaganda campaign in the United States during the two years before Pearl Harbor by expropriating inheritances of German nationals, according to Dr. Haribert von Stempel, former first secretary of the German embassy in Washington.

The story of German attempts to sway American opinion was related by Stempel in a 44-page interrogation submitted in part by the American prosecution today at the war crimes trial.

Stempel said the German library of information in New York alone received $600,000 at the behest of former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels.

He said he personally paid the library's public relations counsel, George Sylvester Viereck, "between $70,000 and $100,000" in the period to carry on propaganda activities.

"I always gave Viereck round sums," the statement said. "I never kept an exact accounting."

A German business man, Dr. Gerhardt Alois Westrick, whose visit to the United States once created publicity for his American acquaintances, was described by Stempel as "a special envoy of Ribbentrop."

From conversations with Westrick at the German embassy, Stempel said he learned the former's mission was "to use his personal relations with influential American businessmen that they should engage in propaganda to keep America out of the war and, if Hitler would win the war in Europe, it would be of great benefit for American economies in general and their business in particular."

Despondency Drives
Woman To Burn Baby

GARY, Ind., March 28.—A charge of homicide was filed today in Lake county criminal court against Mrs. Secora Ramos, 25, who Police Capt. Peter Billick said admitted throwing her six-month-old nephew into a furnace. The mother, Mrs. Carmen Mireles, pulled the baby from the flames, but he died 10 minutes after arriving at a hospital.

Captain Billick said Mrs. Ramos admitted verbally that she put the blanket-clad baby into a furnace in the mother's home where she was visiting. He said she appeared alternately "glad and dejected" during questioning.

The police captain said despondency following a doctor's diagnosis that she is unable to bear children was the "probable motive" for the act. He said she is separated from her husband.

short during the last war. They further call for a study of the possibility of dispersing from coastal regions and placing underground key industrial plants as a means of defense.

President Truman's choice of the man who joined P. & G. as an office boy in 1905 and at 45 was employed in 35 factories all over the world, was an obvious one on the basis of his wartime record.

Active In War Agencies

Besides administering the affairs of his company, whose two shell loading plants turned out a large percentage of the missiles fired by our forces, Deupree played a major part in synthetic rubber production as chief of the agricultural and forest products section of the Office of Production Management.

He served as a member and two-year chairman of the business advisory council for the Department of Commerce, to which he still belongs, and as a member of the War Labor board.

He was one of a dozen top industrialists named by President Roosevelt to an informal presidential advisory committee.

Gen. Breton H. Somervell, as chief of army service forces in June, 1945, appointed him to a small survey group to tour France and Germany and recommend disposition of surplus war vehicles.

purchase a certain number of prefabricated houses from each builder who demanded assurance that there would be a market for his full production. The government, in turn, would act as sales agent.

In congress, Senator Wiley (R-Wis) blasted at the Civilian Production administration's new order which sharply restricts virtually all new construction except veterans' housing.

The CPA regulation, Wiley told his colleagues, "is one more monkey wrench thrown by the administration at free enterprise."

CPA Boss Small acknowledged at a news conference yesterday that the order was designed to outlaw more than $2,000,000,000 worth of other building to make possible a goal of $3,800,000,000 worth of new homes this year.

Small said a tremendous increase in production of building materials was the only solution to the housing shortage. He reported these prospective deficits in 1946 requirements:

Lumber, 17 per cent below demand; radiators, 52 per cent; kitchen sinks, 39 per cent; bathtubs, 20 per cent; bricks, 18 per cent; plywood, 29 per cent.

The first horses were no larger than a small dog.

CAIRO—Egyptian oddities: There is no royal road to a good apartment in Cairo. Even kings find the housing shortage a problem.

King Zog of Albania, his queen and her four sisters were forced to entertain King Farouk of Egypt in a hotel suite after the Albanian royal party came from London to Cairo, where they may make their home.

They are living temporarily in hotel quarters until royal scouts can locate them an apartment.

American babies ride in push buggies. Japanese babies ride pickaback in papoose st. No Chinese babies.

But in Egypt babies ride side saddle—astride their mother's shoulder with their arms clasped around her neck.

So many orthodox Moslem married women, particularly of the uneducated classes, wear black dresses and veils that whole streets times look as if they were in mourning.

These shy ladies, whose religion forbids them showing their features to strangers, pin veils to their faces with a bronze or gold metal clasp that fastens on the nose like a metal clothes pin.

Household crockery is still scarce—so scarce that in some places you are served water in glasses made by cutting down beer bottles. You have to drink carefully to keep from gashing your initials in your lips.

Cairo is one of the most cosmopolitan cities in the world and quite modern in most respects. If you have money to buy it and time to search it out you can find almost any 20th century product you want. Yet within a day's ride by motor car are villages which live by the same social customs and codes that ruled their ancestors 10 centuries ago.

One of the most conservative of these tribes is the Hawarahs of upper Egypt. It is so conservative that boy children are removed from their mother's care at the age of four and see her no more.

Womenfolk live completely secluded within the walls of their own homes. No men servants are allowed to cross the threshold and these secluded wives have no feminine company except members of their own households. They cannot even see their own male cousins or their husband's brothers. It is an ideal setup for a husband who wants to convince his wife he is the world's most perfect man.

In one of these villages some more daring women have taken to leaving their own homes occasionally to visit neighbor women friends. They are ladies of high rank and their sorties out into the world create quite a stir. They are sur-

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent urination passes with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

rounded by guards and all traffic in and out of the village and in the neighborhood of their visit is suspended. They themselves, of course, are heavily veiled.

No one is quite sure just who is being protected from whom or what but no one is taking any chances.

There is no place quite like Egypt for holidays. It is the true home of the "long weekend." Moslems celebrate Friday as a weekly holy day. Jews take Saturdays and Christians have their traditional Sundays off. Cairo barbers, not content with this wide choice, have their own special holiday. They hang up their shears and close shop on Mondays.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are supposedly meatless days in Cairo restaurants, but chicken, duck, ham and tongue aren't classified as meat. And neither is steak, if you really want it. The restaurants serve anything you order and nobody thinks anything about it.

If you start to hail a taxi at least three night-robed natives will begin running madly up and down the street trying to get you a cab. And when one rolls up from the opposite direction they rush to open the cab door. For this "service" unasked and unwanted, you are expected to give "bakshesh" to each.

The only native of this class I met in Egypt who didn't ask for more money—no matter how much you overtip them they ask for more as a matter of principle—was a dignified old Arab guide at the Pyramids. He was extremely religious and had made pilgrimages to Mecca and Medina.

When I paid him his fee and asked if he were satisfied, he replied: "A good name is much better than money. All the time shine like full moon."

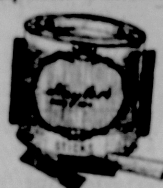

He must be a very fonesome man—in Egypt.

Capacity Crowd Jams Memorial Building As Initial Round Of Salem Invitational Tourney Gets Under Way With 7 Frays

Three Salem Clubs Mark Up Wins; Farrell, Vienna And Liverpool Look Tops

A capacity crowd jammed the Memorial building last night as play got under way in Salem's 12th annual Invitational tournament with three of the pre-tournament favorites surviving their initial tests easily.

Three local aggregations were among the winners last night, the Salem Hardwoods tripping the Kent Bucs, 43-24; the Sip-N-Bite conquering Ellsworth by a 31-21 count, and the Salem American Legion walloping Newell, W. Va., 53-33.

In other contests, the Alliance Gormans drubbed Niles Ex-Highs, 50-40; the East Liverpool Vets notched a 40-26 triumph over Cortland Powers; the Vienna Scots vanquished Midland, 46-31, and Farrell Carpo-Russ had a 63-18 field day at the expense of Chester, W. Va.

Easily the most outstanding teams to show their wares here last night were the Farrell combine, East Liverpool and Vienna Scots. Two other outfits, the Salem Hardwood and the Alliance Gormans may also be around for the finals Saturday.

Seven more games feature tonight's card as the first round nears completion. Niles Jimmies battle the Salem Hardwoods at 6 p. m., Greenfield vs Springfield Township at 6:45, Farrell Carpo-Russ meet Goodrich at 7:30, the Vienna Scots tangle with the Warren Taylors at 8:15, Parma meets the Sip-N-Bite at 9, the Akron Scotts duel with Scienceville at 9:45, and Parma Heights offer the opposition for the East Liverpool Vets at 10:30.

Scanning last night's games briefly:

Showing one of the rangiest out-fits seen on the local boards for some time, the Farrell Carpo-Russ club packed entirely too much power for a diminutive Chester, W. Va., team and won easily, 63-18, although their first team played but 10 minutes.

Gus Magula, lanky pivotman, dumped in 17 points to pace the Pennsylvanians while Pete Kranich counted 11.

In the roughest game on the night's slate, the Alliance Gormans, featuring several members of 1945-46 Alliance High varsity, eliminated the Niles Ex-Highs.

Fallo and Dick Albaugh contributed 33 points to the Alliance attack while Jim Jennings, erstwhile Niles High flash, flipped in 17 for the losers.

The Salem Hardwoods started slowly against a disorganized Kent five but got their attack into high gear in the last three periods to win going away as Sam Pridon, Bob Miller and Don Freed led in the scoring column with 13, 12 and 11 tallies respectively.

Musat was high man for Kent with 10.

Led by East Liverpool High's all-Ohio star, Jim Harris, the East Liverpool Vets had little trouble in disposing of the Fowler Bobcats.

The stocky scoring ace lived up to all his press notices as he hit the rims for a 17-point total. Verne, with nine, paced Cortland.

The Vienna Scots served notice that they can cause plenty of trouble throughout the tourney as they gave a Midland aggregation a neat lesson basketball.

Kenny Bergman, ex-Youngstown college ace, and Jack Mills, once all-Ohio from Mount Union, were the mainstays in the attack with 15 points each.

The Scotts battle the powerful Farrell club in a second round contest Friday in what should prove one of the most thrilling tilts of the classic.

The Salem Sip-N-Bite took an early lead and went on to oust a weak Ellsworth five from the tourney as Mike Oana, John Kozar and Wayne Hahn showed the way with eight points each.

The Salem Legion was given quite a scare by Newell for a few minutes but finally got rolling to rack up one of the highest totals of the evening.

All but one member of the team broke into the scoring as the Salem five chalked up its easy win. Robinson of Newell took scoring honors with 12 points while Les Knepp and Amos Dunlap featured the well-balanced Legion attack.

PARTNERS IN HEALTH SERVICE

WE CHERISH your doctor's confidence in the Rexall Prescription Department. As his partner in health service, it is our first aim to maintain your doctor's confidence. To do this is to adhere to a policy that calls for a wide variety of quality drugs — newest drugs — yes, even seldom used drugs that must be replaced frequently enough to insure full potency. Rexall prescription policy calls for accuracy to the nth degree. This means that your doctor's instructions will be followed to the letter. Therefore, the next time your doctor writes a prescription for you, bring it to the Rexall Drug Store. For, like your doctor, you can be confident that your prescription will be filled promptly and accurately with the prescribed ingredients.
